PEACE AND JUSTICE WEEK 5-9 NOVEMBER

Monday 5 November 7.30pm

ISRAEL-PALESTINE

Renowned international writer and speaker Robert Cohen tells of his personal journey from Jewish supporter of Israel to Jewish campaigner for Palestinian human rights, and explains why the same journey is so difficult for others.

Tuesday 6 November 7.30pm

LUNE VALLEY SYRIAN REFUGEE SPONSORSHIP PROGRAMME

Pope Francis has challenged every catholic parish and community to take in a Syrian refugee family. Peter King explains how the catholic parishes of the Lune Valley have taken up that challenge in cooperation with the UK government to welcome and support a Syrian refugee family here in the Lune Valley – plus news of other work amongst refugees in Yorkshire, Cumbria and Lancashire.

Wednesday 7 November 7.30pm

CHRISTIAN AID and CAFOD

With local support in every parish and a global reach, Christian Aid and Cafod have become the leading agencies for local church action in the wider world. With video presentations and a panel of speakers including Arton Medd of Christian Aid, we have updates on their development work and their work with refugees in some of the harshest situations around the world.

Thursday 8 November 7.30pm

CHURCH-SPONSORED WORK in LANCASTER AND MORECAMBE

With Jan Norbury from the Night Shelter, Annette Smith from the Food Bank and more – news and insights from the front line of church-sponsored work amongst the homeless and the most vulnerable in Lancaster and Morecambe.

Friday 9 November 7.30pm

IN TRANSITION

So many young people are choosing gender transition that it is now affecting virtually every high school in the country - and primary schools as well. Our panel includes Fr Luiz Ruscillo (head of education for the Diocese of Lancaster), Revd Chris Newlands (Lancaster Priory and Church of England General Synod), Ken Wilkinson-Roberts (Lancaster University LGBT faith group), Kirsty Allan (Creative Wellbeing) and others from Lancaster's schools, colleges and universities with relevant experience and expertise.
