Sunday 3 August

centenary of the Great War

10.30am service in Arkholme

The Thankful Villages are those fifty-four villages in England and Wales where everyone who served in the Great War returned alive. All fifty-four will be unveiling centenary memorials at 11am on Sunday 3 August.

The service in Arkholme begins at 10.30am and includes the unveiling of a substantial new permanent stone memorial in the churchyard by the west wall of the church. Guests of honour include Thankful Villages researchers Norman Thorpe (recently honoured by the Queen) and Gerry Lees (who has researched the stories of all of the fifty-nine named on Arkholme's Great War Roll of Honour), descendants of those who returned, and all those who worked on the new memorial.
