Readings from Mark, readings from John

Each year in our Sunday readings, we work through one complete gospel. This year's is The Gospel According to Saint Mark. Last year it was Matthew, next year it will be Luke. The Gospel According to Saint John does not have a year to itself, but provides readings around Christmas and in Eastertide each year – and then through five weeks of summer in the year of Mark, starting next Sunday. This happens in the year of Mark because Mark's is the shortest gospel – and the five-week theme from Saint John is Jesus the Bread of Life. It begins next Sunday and runs through the first four weeks of August.
