The Quarter Days

Three of our four Patronal Festivals (across the four parishes) are on traditional Quarter Days. The Patronal Festival of Saint John the Baptist (Arkholme) is at the summer solstice (midsummer's day, the longest day), and we celebrate it on the last Sunday in June. The Patronal Festival of Saint Michael the Archangel (Whittington) is at the autumn equinox (when there are exactly twelve hours of daylight); we celebrate it on the last Sunday in September. And the Patronal Festival of Saint John the Evangelist (Gressingham) is at the winter solstice (the shortest day), and we celebrate it on the Sunday after Christmas, between 26 December and 1 January.

The four parishes celebrate these Patronal Festivals together to mark our unity as four parishes working together. Join us next in Whittington on 29 September.
